

Nuclear Collaboration Ltd (NucCol)

General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) Policy Nuclear Collaboration Ltd (NucCol)

1. Introduction

Nuclear Collaboration Ltd (NucCol) is committed to protecting and respecting your privacy. This policy explains how we collect, use, store, and protect your personal data in compliance with the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR), the Data Protection Act 2018, and, where applicable, the EU GDPR.

This policy applies to all employees, contractors, clients, suppliers, and third parties who interact with NucCol.

2. Definitions

- Personal Data: Any information that can directly or indirectly identify an individual (e.g., name, email, address, IP address).
- Data Subject: Any individual whose personal data is processed by NucCol.
- Processing: Any action performed on personal data, including collection, storage, modification, and deletion.
- Data Controller: The entity that determines the purpose and means of processing personal data (NucCol).
- Data Processor: Any third party that processes personal data on behalf of NucCol.

3. Data Protection Principles

NucCol adheres to the following data protection principles:

- Lawfulness, Fairness, and Transparency – Personal data will be processed lawfully, fairly, and transparently.
- Purpose Limitation – Personal data will be collected for specified, explicit, and legitimate purposes.
- Data Minimisation – Only the data necessary for the stated purpose will be collected and processed.
- Accuracy – Personal data will be accurate and kept up to date.
- Storage Limitation – Data will not be kept longer than necessary.
- Integrity and Confidentiality – Data will be processed securely to protect against unauthorised or unlawful processing, accidental loss, destruction, or damage.
- Accountability – NucCol takes responsibility for ensuring GDPR compliance.

4. Lawful Basis for Processing Personal Data

NucCol processes personal data under one or more of the following lawful bases:

- Consent – The data subject has given explicit consent.
- Contractual Necessity – Processing is necessary for a contract with the data subject.
- Legal Obligation – Processing is required to comply with legal obligations.
- Legitimate Interests – Processing is necessary for the legitimate interests of NucCol or a third party, provided these interests are not overridden by the rights of the data subject.

This includes situations where NucCol processes personal data provided by a client about third parties (such as supplier representatives) as part of supply chain assessment or development services. In such cases, processing is typically based on legitimate interest, specifically:

- Fulfilling our contractual obligations to the client,
- Supporting responsible supply chain management,
- Enabling communication and assessment activities in a professional context.

We ensure this data is handled with appropriate safeguards and is strictly limited to what is necessary for the intended purpose.

5. Types of Personal Data We Collect

Depending on our relationship with you, NucCol may collect the following personal data:

Employees & Contractors:

- Name, contact details, date of birth
- Employment history, qualifications
- Payroll and bank details
- National Insurance number
- Performance records
- Emergency contact details

Clients & Suppliers:

- Business name, contact details
- Contractual agreements
- Payment details
- Correspondence history

Website Visitors & Marketing Contacts:

- IP address and device information
- Name, email, and phone number (if submitted through contact forms)
- Marketing preferences
- How We Collect Personal Data

NucCol collects data in the following ways:

- Directly from individuals via forms, contracts, emails, phone calls, and meetings.
- Through our website (cookies, analytics, contact forms).
- From third parties such as business partners or public sources (e.g., Companies House).

7. Data Security Measures

To protect personal data, NucCol implements security measures, including:

- Encryption of sensitive data
- Access control – Only authorised personnel can access data
- Regular audits to identify risks and vulnerabilities
- Secure storage of physical and digital records
- Data minimisation – Storing only necessary data
- Staff training on GDPR compliance

In the event of a data breach, NucCol will:

- Assess the impact and take necessary actions to mitigate damage
- Notify affected individuals and the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) within 72 hours, if required

8. Sharing Personal Data

NucCol only shares personal data where necessary and with appropriate safeguards in place. This includes:

- Service Providers (e.g., IT support, payroll processing)
- Legal and Regulatory Authorities (if required by law)
- Business Partners (where necessary for contract fulfilment)
- We ensure that any third-party data processors comply with GDPR requirements through contractual agreements.

9. International Data Transfers

If personal data is transferred outside the UK or EEA, NucCol ensures that:

The recipient country has an adequate level of protection, or

Appropriate safeguards (e.g., Standard Contractual Clauses) are in place.

10. Data Retention Policy

NucCol retains personal data only as long as necessary for its purpose. Retention periods include:

Data Type	Retention Period
Employee records	6 years after termination
Client and supplier contracts	7 years from last transaction
Financial records (invoices)	6 years (for tax compliance)
Marketing data	Until consent is withdrawn

After these periods, data is securely deleted or anonymised.

11. Data Subject Rights

Under GDPR, individuals have the following rights:

- Right to Access – Request copies of personal data.
- Right to Rectification – Request correction of inaccurate or incomplete data.
- Right to Erasure ("Right to be Forgotten") – Request deletion of data (subject to legal obligations).
- Right to Restriction of Processing – Request limited processing of data.
- Right to Data Portability – Request transfer of data to another organisation.
- Right to Object – Object to processing based on legitimate interests or direct marketing.
- Rights Related to Automated Decision-Making – Challenge decisions made solely by automated means.

To exercise these rights, individuals can contact [Insert Contact Email].

12. Cookies and Website Data

NucCol's website may collect cookies to enhance user experience. Users can manage cookie preferences through their browser settings.

13. Complaints and Contact Information

If you have concerns about how your data is handled, contact at:

- ✉ Email: enquiries@nucol.co.uk
- 📍 Address: NucCol,
Unit 8 , Riverside Court
Riverside Road

Pride Park
Derby
DE24 8HY

If unresolved, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO):

 Website: <https://ico.org.uk/>

 Phone: 0303 123 1113

14. Policy Review and Updates

This policy is reviewed annually and updated as necessary to reflect legal or operational changes.

Last updated: [Insert Date]